. THE BACK TAX SYSTEM VERY BITTERLY ATTACKED

ATTORNEYS COMPLAIN OF RECURR ING TROUBLE.

Sessions of Investigation Begin at Chat tanooga .- J. Parks Worley and His Predecessors Again Criticized. Ducktown Assessments.

Chattanooga, Tenn.—D. B. Loveman, Attorney W. S. Miller and Attorney S. M. Chambers were the witnesses before the Williams tax investigation committee at its first day's session in Chat-

Mr. Loveman was the first to be questioned. He declared that there had been 'a good deal of just complaint against the present back tax laws," and told of a number of instances where he had been visited by back tax agents and that after the taxes had been paid additional de-mands were made. He said that complaint of the law came from all classes. Continuing: "I am a rather large holder of real estate. I find that, in buying real estate back assessments are made I understand that a great many cases have occurred where people get a realty title and find that the property has been doubly assessed, and the owners have receipts for what they have paid, but have to pay again. My trouble has been that I could not get my money back after I had paid it out."

The witness said that the merchants were greatly harassed by back tax at-torneys and had been haled before the revenue authorities three times in the past 25 years, the last time in 1912, as well as he remembered, and all of the merchants back assessed.

The trouble is that we go and pay our taxes and think that is the last of it, but find that we never know when we are done paying," he concluded.

COURT OF APPEALS TAKES RECESS UNTIL THAT DATE.

24 Cases Were Decided-All of the Opin ions Handed Down Friday Concerned Unimportant Litigation.

One of the important cases to be decided is that of Mary L. Shaller vs. F. Bruce Garrett et al., another branch of the celebrated Cloth will case, in which a direct attack on the Clarendon will of Mrs. Cloth is made. This case will probably be decided by the court on March 29. The judges of the court left on afternoon and night trains for their homes, where they will spend the recess. They carried the records of the cases under advisement with them and will work on opinions during their absence. Hearing sessions were discontinued by the court Wednesday, when the final call of the 217 cases on the docket was completed. During the remainder of the term the judges will devote all their time to the preparation of opinions The judges are anxious to wind up the business of the term before the supreme court meets in Jackson on the first Mouday in April. They hope to have opinions prepared in all cases now undecided by the last of March,

The opinions handed down by the court today concerned small litigation almost entirely. No legal questions of importance were presented, and the matters at issue were of no general interest

His decision was rendered in the case of the Forest Hill Cemetery Company against J. H. Creath, former county trustee, and J. B. Thomason, state revenue agent.

More than a year ago Mr. Thomason caused a citation to issue against the company to show cause why it should not be back assessed for three years.

The company applied for an injunc-tion, contending that it was exempted from taxation by a section of the constitution, and that it was the plain purpose of the law to exempt cemeteries for he reason that their lands were dedicated for a sacred use and 25 per cent of the gross proceeds of the sale of lots is required to be set aside for mainten-

Further, that if cemeteries or stock of cemetery companies were taxed, taking into account the sums required to be class legislation would be the result and discrimination against cemetery companies, which is was the evident purpose of the law to favor. Chancellor Fentress held that stock of the cemetery company might be capable of furnishing the owners with handsome dividends, and that to hold that the aggregate value of the shares, less the value of dedicated property, is not subject to taxation would relieve the shareholders from payment of taxes and would be discrimination against all other taxable property.

Application of the company for as njunction was dismissed. An appeal will be taken to the supreme court.

GOV. HOOPER AND SEN. LEA ACCUSE EACH OTHER

SAYS GOVERNOR AGREED "HANDS-OFF LIQUOR LAWS."

Hooper Said He Would Do All in His Power to Punish Crump and Would Strive for More Prohibitive Liquor Laws.

Nashville.-During the progress of a statement by Senator Luke Lea to the Washington correspondent of the Nashville Tennessean and American in that paper's issue of Thursday, the senator has the following to say concerning Gov. Hooper's agreement in conference to keep hands off as regards additional prohibition legislation:

"At 11 o'clock the possibility of reaching an agreement was so slight that Mayor Crump and Mr. Trezevant left for Memphis, Mr. Rice remaining to represent the Shelby county delegation n the event an agreement could be reached. Before we met in the morning, Mayor Crump, who had arrived in Memphis, telephoned Mr. Rice not to make any agreement for the co-opera-tion of the Shelby delegation, even if the differences of the previous evening could be composed, unless there was a distinct agreement by all who attended the conference and by Gov. Hooper that no effort by any of them would be made to pass any legislation on the liquor unanimously by the senators who would elect Mr. White as speaker.

"Shortly thereafter we were informed by Mr. Amis and Col. Shook that they had a conference with Gov. Hooper upon the matters of difference the night before, and we could reach and agreement. They were then immediately advised of Mr. Crump's telephone message that there could be no agreement unless Gov. Hooper agreed not to urge any additional legislation. They at once left the conference and returned in a short time, informing us that they had been to see Gov. Hooper and that he had informed them that he would agree to the programme that no legislation upon the liquor question should be pressed by any of those inducing Mayor Crump to make this agreement, unless it was approved by all the senators electing the speaker, both Mr. Amis and Col. Shook stating that Gov. Hooper said he would not only be passive, but active in execuing such a programme. The last obstacle to an agreement was made with the results that are known. "This absolute agreement was made, and it is not now a question of whether Gov. Hooper would violate his conscience by entering into such an agreement, but whether he is going to keep an agreement once made.

Gov. Hooper denies Senator Lea's statement in toto and claims to have said he would strive for the effectment of more prohibitive laws.

Seems to Have a Feeling That He Is Making an Argument Against Woman Suffrage.

Enemies of votes for women, in search of arguments to confound the orators of the case, may use for what it is worth the following incident which happened in Madison square one day last week:

A young woman of pleasing and ploturesque aspect came northward from Twenty-third street across the square. She struggled under the weight of a dog-hamper, and inside one could see a bright-eyed, restless fox terrier, eager to be let out. The woman carried a leash in her left hand, and the dog terested observed followed the woman. She struggled on six blocks up Madison avenue before she reached her destination, a residence on the east side of the street. Then she unlocked the hamper, snapped the leash on the dog's collar, and took him inside the house. Why had she carried an ablebodied, 25-pound fox terrier, who wanted to be let out, all that distance?-New York Evening Post.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAYSCHOOL LESSON

(By E. O. SELLERS, Director of Even-ing Department The Moody Bible In-stitute of Chicago.)

LESSON FOR MARCH 23

THE EMPTY TOMB.

LESSON TEXT—Mark 18:1-11.
GOLDEN TEXT—"Now hath Christ been raised from the dead, the first fruits of them that are asleep." I Cor. 15-20. Some teachers may prefer the study of the lesson of Israel and Rebekah, Gen., 24, but because of its relative value and its relation to the day we celebrate we prefer to consider the Easter lesson. There are five main points in the evidence St. Mark presents to show us that Jesus was the True Son of God, (1) the testimony of John the Baptiser, 1:2-8; (2) the baptism of Jesus, 1:9-11; (3) the transfiguration, 9:2-8; (4) the testimony of the centurian at his crucifixion, 15:39, and (5) the testimony of the resurrection of Jesus. Of the ten different appearances of our Lord, Mark records four, (a) to Mary, 16-9; (b) on the way to Emmaus, 16:12, 13; (c) in the upper room, 16:14, and (d) the ascen-

Purchased Spices.

Today we are to consider the first of these appearances. From a careful reading of this and the parallel accounts it is evident that as soon as the Sabbath day had closed and the shops were opened these friends of Jesus purchased spices that early the next morning they might annoint his dead body. Matthew 28:1 R. V. would indicate a possible earlier visit on Saturday, the Jewish Sabbath.

I. "In the morning of the first day of the week." vv. 1-8. Starting while it was yet dark (John 20:1) these faithful friends hurried on their way to the tomb. It was Mary Magdaleue who first reached the tomb, Matt. 28:1, John 20:1, she who had received much (Luke $:2) loved much. Nor was it the Virgin Mary that had the privilege of first beholding him (v. 9). It was the love of these women (v. 1) that brought them to the tomb of him, which should have redeemed Israel" (Luke 24:21). That all the followers were shaken in faith the records clearly suggest, yet love remained, hence this desire to annoint his body. This service though unnecessary (Matt. 16:21, 20:19) was, however, rewarded by the revelation of the angelic mes-

Serious Question Raised.

Pursuing their way a very serious juestion was raised (v. 3), but God and already removed the difficulty (v. 4), so, too, if we will but be "looking up" (v. 4 R. V.), God will give us all necessary knowledge, (Jas. 1:5), and will enable us to overcome all difficulties. The empty tomb is the standing rebuke for all skeptics. If he be not and what became of his body. The true basis of Christianity is in the risen Christ, see I Cor. 15:1-18. Had the friends pondered well the words of Christ they would not have wasted their time and money seeking to annoint a dead body. That was the reason why they did not know and that is why we do not know many things we ought to know about our Lord. It is noticeable that none of the men were at the tomb. Entering the tomb they found, not als body, but a young man, and later two in dazzling apparel (Luke 23:4) stood beside them. When Mary re turned from the city, having told the news, the two angels were sitting one at the head and one at the feet of where the body had lain. John notes that the disciples found the napkin which had bound his herd lying fold ed in its original folds in a place by ttself (John 20:7). In the midst of all their perplexity For quick and good COTTON as to what had become of the body of him whom they loved they failed to recall his words (Luke 9:22) and hence could offer no solution of the difficulty. But the God of me plied their need (Phil. 4:19) and hence the glad triumphant message of the angel, "He is risen; he is not here; behold the place where they (enemies and friends) laid him," v. 6. Cf. Matt. 28:6. Then, as though to make their knowledge of service others, he commands them to go and tell the disciples "and Peter" and the they are no more to look for him there for "He goeth before you into Gallice," v. 7. II. "And they went out quickly," places and to remember sacred associations, but God is a spirit and cannot be localized. Of course the women would like to dwell at that place in meditation, but having had revealed to them the fact, their duty was to publish it abroad. A definite knowledge imposes a definite obligation of testimony. Out of death came forth life. The seeming defeat of Jesus was the prelude to the world's greatest victory—its most astounding miracle. Living unto self means claiming your self for yourself. Living "unto him" means that in your mind your spirit your body, you show forth the risen victorious, triumphant life. This Easter day is the day of all days to remember such words at Just as I am, young, strong and free
